Situation of Kuropatkin's Army More Hopeful According to Russian Reports from Front— Various War News.

The whole day passed without making much headway and Russian troops were again forced to seek shelter of the rock slopes, there to wait until nightfall, when a fresh assault was planned.

The order came to advance at midnight and the Japanese moved forward at 10 o'clock. They fought stubbornly, but were driven back. The Russians followed up the advantage and occupied the pass. Meantime the Russians got nearly to commanding heights, but at dawn were forced to retire, as the Japanese batteries commanded the ground the Russians had so hardily won. Next day the Russians again advanced, assaulting the main pass. The Japanese were driven back, but then moved forward. The Japanese won with particular tenacity on the left flank. The Japanese advanced on Colonel Harkin, who was holding the right. The Japanese turned his flank, but reinforcements revenue of $2,322,000,000. The first of these comparisons in economic administrations: He shall be accommodated.

The fifty-first congress was Republican and appropriated $388,000,000. There were no "emergency" appropriations, and conditions over what it denominated the "million dollar Congress." The lower house was "Republican" and the upper house the fifty-second congress was Democratic but instead of stopping $12,000,000 short of the "emergency" appropriation, it actually exceeded it by $25,000,000 and appropriated $1,026,000,000. It was elected on a platform of economy, but it exceeded all precedent.

The fifty-third congress was Republican, the Spanish war. The Democratic party never fails to make economy a major issue. The Republican administration, with its appropriations, like its other legislation, never affected by its promises.

It is a conceded fact that both our war and peace administrations have been with the first few years. It is likewise true that the people of the United States are doing better business but they are getting that much more mail and they are Delavan, Wis., Oct. 17.—The Delavan school building burned to day was one of the finest in southern Wisconsin and was built at a cost of $30,000. squarley, breaking into fragments and, clutching her clothes with burning oil, with a shriek of agony Mrs. McCarthy ran in the hall and pounded against the door of an opposite apartment, and when its occupant opened the door the woman stood there a moment a pillar of fire, and then dropped to the floor, dying in a few minutes.

"More to be Pitied than Scorned" is the title of a new play. Might apply also to the Democratic vaudeville.

The protective tariff system performs two functions for the American workman; it secures him the fullest opportunity of employment and assures him the highest standard of compensation for his labor and genius.

The people at large acquiesce in the protective tariff system. It is only the Democratic party that is forever trying to disturb it. After the severe lessons of the last Democratic tinkering with the tariff, it is a wonder that a party has the temerity to ask the voters to try it again.

This country is irrevocably committed to a tariff based fundamentally upon ample recognition of the difference in labor here and abroad and in recognition of the need for the full development, the comfort, the high standing of living, of the American workman as compared with the workman abroad.

EXPENDITURES FOR ARMY.
Ex-Senator Davis is still troubled about the expenditures of the government, and especially worried over the expenditures of the war department, which last year amounted to $115,000,000. Mr. Davis, like Judge Parker, accepts this amount as the cost of the United States army and solemnly warns the people against the militarism of the Republican administration.

Of course Mr. Davis knows better, or his experience in the United States senate counts for nothing. The knowledge and experience gained by two terms in the senate should have taught him that the expenditures of the war department do not even approximately measure the cost of the army. All the river and harbor improvements are under the control of the war department and the expenditures for such improvements last year amounted to more than $20,000,000.

There were other expenditures no way due to the army, but under the administration of the war department, which amounted to many millions. These outside items deducted leave the expenditure for the army about $75,000,000. The Democratic candidate for vice president should know this if he has the ability to preside over the senate. If he does know it and uses these figures only to misrepresent the government, it is an even more serious reflection on his candidacy.

The Democratic leaders in congress did not complain of the appropriation bills being too large last winter. They complained that they were not big enough. They complained bitterly because there was no general river and harbor bill to carry appropriations amounting to fifty millions to be spent in southern and eastern states, where Democratic constituencies abound. They had all sorts of schemes for improving southern rivers and harbors that would have cost more than the whole military establishment. They charged the Republicans with sins of omission in not incorporating their schemes in the appropriation bills to swell the expenditures of the war department.

The Democratic candidates for president and vice president both see in these appropriations only a rapid advance toward militarism, when if they would look at the items of expenditure they would find that in the last forty years more money had been expended by the war department in improving the rivers and harbors of the south than have been spent on the army.

The Republican congress had the same ideas of economy that govern business affairs. The appropriations were made in harmony with the needs of the country and the ability to pay them out of the revenues without going in debt. There has not been a year without a war when the Republican administration has not been able to keep the expenditures below the revenues, and there has not been a Democratic administration which did not expend more money than the revenues of the government amounted to and borrow to settle the bills. This is the difference between the two parties on the economic issue. The Republican party cuts the garment according to the cloth, and the Democratic party, like Micawber, hopes that something will turn up to help it out of the financial holes it is continually falling into. If the voters want congress to continue doing business in a business way they will elect a Republican majority to control. If they want the government to again go broke they should turn congress over to the Democrats.

THE REPUBLICAN PARTY. THE SAFE-GUARD OF CHRISTIAN CIVILIZATION.

The importance of the impending presidential campaign appeals to every legal American citizen to manifest personal interest and strenuous effort in maintaining the stability, prestige and prosperity of the American republic.

To secure a continuance of the conditions now existing, it is necessary that every legal man and woman should engage with zeal and enthusiasm in awakening public sentiment to the support of the present administration and its peerless leader, the president, Theodore Roosevelt, one who represents the highest type of American character in that he stands for constitutional justice, equity and protection to all citizens without regard to nationality or politics; and safeguards their rights at home and abroad. He advocates justice and protection to those of high or low estate; to the millionaire and the mechanic, the skilled and unskilled laborer, with industrial opportunity for all.

My fellow citizens, we appeal to you all not to allow over confidence to minimize your efforts in the impending campaign.

The political combination under the name of Democracy ("Safe and Sound"—shall we say safe and sound for office?) If not, for what do they stand? Certainly not for constitutional rights, since they have abridged the rights of American citizenship in the majority of states where they are in control. They are in opposition to the present standard of American wages, made possible by a protective tariff, which they characterize as "robbery." They are opposed to universal education in order to keep a large number of American citizens in a state of penance. They have denied to a large number of citizens the equal protection of the law. They have removed the hoodwink from the eyes of justice and outraged the sanctity of the court. I therefore appeal in thundering tones to the wives and daughters and that great and glorious organization, the Woman's Christian Temperance Union, and also the Woman's Suffrage League and all to rise in their might and by precept and example, voice and pen, moral force and influence, have every voter cast his vote to protect our interest and last hope in this great struggle.

Lastly, leave not the polls on Nov. 8 next until all honorable means have been exhausted to elect Theodore Roosevelt president, together with the congressional and state ticket and a complete confirmation of the Chicago platform.

Leslie Leach Gives Exhibition as a Side Issue to the Manassas Sale

Two gentlemen from this city went out to Nortonville Monday to attend the Manassas sale, in Leslie Leach's automobile, which proved to be as much of a drawing card as the many bargains to be found under the auctioneer's hammer. An exhibition was given, in which Mr. Leach broke all his previous records for speed.

The trip to Nortonville was made without any incident worthy of mention, aside from a team of colts being scared out of a year's growth. They smelled the machine from afar and when it drove into sight were already standing on their heads. The party on the "Red Devil" dismounted, righted the fractions animals, hauled them past the object of their scorn by main force and then proceeded happily on their way. Fortunately, no other rigs were abroad and the way to Nortonville was clear sailing.

As the party arrived in the outskirts of the town the power was shut off and the machine coasted silently into the midst of the crowd before any were aware of its approach. The sale at once lost all interest for the spectators, who demanded of the chauffeur an exhibition of the powers of the machine, as it was the first to dare to enter that secluded region. Mr. Leach very obligingly agreed to give a free exhibition and the teacher of the village school dismissed her pupils in order that they might also enjoy the sight.

All horses, mules and other livestock were removed from the immediate vicinity and the road cleared for action. The machine was driven up the road for a short distance, turned around, was given the word and dashed madly at a mile-and-a-half-a-minute gait, amidst a great cloud of dust into the midst of the wondering throng. After congratulating the occupants on their miraculous escape from instant death, the bystanders closely examined the machine, passing many comments and asking many questions, and the sale was gradually resumed.

AT THE GRAND.

Vance & Sullivan presented the original company of "Why Girls Leave Home, or the Danger Signal in the Path of Folly," at the Grand last evening before a top heavy house.

The play is rather rough around the edges, but does not disguise the nature and result of sin and folly in the least, and they are not gilded over with a gloss of unreality with which the truth is too often concealed in other plays. The villains in the play were villainous, with no redeeming graces, and the sporty brother of the heroine is made to suffer for his past evil deeds. The moral of the play was by no means hidden.

To night, "Buster Brown."

RAILROAD NEWS NOTES

Alton Engineers Here—Local Happenings of Interest—The Car Shops.

Two engineers representing the Alton were in the city on business Monday and spent part of the day searching the records at the court house. Mystery surrounds their movements, as it usually does in the case of railroad engineers. They maintained a discreet silence and while plied with questions by the reporter, went peacefully on in their search for the exact boundaries of the Alton holdings in this city.

It is more than probable that their visit has to do with the location of the turn-table, which has been a subject of controversy between the road and Mr. Kenting, and which for a time led to the abandonment of the use of the turn-table. Again, the visit may have been made in connection with the new freight depot, which is to be erected at the East College avenue crossing, and perhaps it may be the forerunner of plans for a new passenger station; or perhaps, but further solicitations might seem inquisitive and the subject will be dismissed with the promise of more anon.

Joe Gilpin, blacksmith at the local shops, was lamed off Monday.

Albert Strauss, of the coach department, is laying off on account of sickness.

William Smith, fireman for the C. P. & St. L., of Springfield, was visiting Jacksonville friends Monday.

F. L. Warren has taken a position at the Burlington freight office. He was formerly with the C. & A. and is a man well qualified for the position.

Alton surveyors are at work on the C. & A. turn-table.

Emil C. Swanson, car service inspector, was in the city Monday.

William Day was firing on C. P. & St. L. train No. 38 in the absence of Nick Veria.

The Burlington motor car was in the city Monday. The occupants were L. W. Berry, B. E. Bond and E. G. Johnson. They were south bound.

A gasoline traction engine came in over the C. P. & St. L. Friday and is being repaired at the local shops.

John Dyer, James Hennessey and Frank Baker, all of the local shops, expected to depart to day for a few days' visit at the great fair in St. Louis.

Harry Phillips expects to visit the St. Louis fair to morrow.

W. J. Mahoney, assistant foreman of the boiler shops, is taking a vacation this week.

Arthur Mills, machinist at the local shops, has taken possession of the Funk property on South Main street and will go to housekeeping.

Jack Dunphy is able to be at work again, after a two weeks' illness.

C. P. Benis, trainmaster for the C. & A., was a Monday visitor in Jacksonville.

W. D. Shaff, C. P. & St. L. trainmaster, was in the city Monday.

Joseph Brown, brakeman for the C. B. & Q., was visiting in the city Sunday.

Charley DeSilva, brakeman on the C. B. & Q., visited his family here Sunday.

"Buster Brown" at the Grand to Night.

SALE OF HORSES.

The J. W. Woods Horse & Mule Co. Monday shipped five car loads of horses and mules to St. Louis, constituting probably the largest shipment made from here in recent years. The company recently sold their gray horse, "Parker," who took a number of ribbons at the state fair, to a Mr. Davis, of Springfield, for $500. They picked the animal up in St. Louis some time ago.

POLICE NEWS.

Mary Paxton was arrested by Policeman Murgatroyd for using abusive language.

Jas. Williams was taken in by Policemen Murgatroyd, Brainer and Fernandes, charged with drunkenness.

MANESS SALE.

The sale of the household goods of Dr. Maness, at Nortonville, was held at his residence Monday and a large number were in attendance. Capt. John E. Wright was the auctioneer and good prices prevailed.

PONY FOUND.

The pony lost last Tuesday by the Mundy Carnival company, was located Sunday on the Ramells farm on Lincoln avenue, and brought to this city, where it is being held till Colonel Mundy is heard from. Captain Kennedy telegraphed him that the animal had been found, but has not yet received any answer.

POINTED EXPRESSIONS FROM ROOSEVELT'S LETTER.

We intend in the future to carry on the government in the same way that we have carried it on in the past.

We are content to rest our case before the American people upon the fact that to adherence to a lofty ideal we have added, proved governmental efficiency.

No other administration in our history, no other government in the world, has more consistently stood for the broadest spirit of brotherhood in our common humanity, or has held a more resolute attitude of protest against every wrong that outraged the civilization of the world, at home or abroad.

It has behaved toward all nations, strong or weak, with courtesy, dignity and justice; and is now on excellent terms with all.

Our foreign policy has been not only highly advantageous to the United States, but hardly less advantageous to the world as a whole. Peace and good will have followed in its footsteps.

Within the limits defined by the national constitution the national administration as sought to secure to each man the full enjoyment of his right to live his life and dispose of his property and his labor as he deems best, so long as he wrongs no one else.

It is but ten years since the first attempt was made, by means of lowering the tariff, to prevent some people from prospering too much. The attempt was entirely successful.

To uproot and destroy the protective system would be to insure the prostration of business, the closing of factories, the impoverishment of the farmer, the ruin of the capitalist and the starvation of the wage-worker.

During the last five years more has been done for the material and moral well-being of the Philippines than ever before since the island first came within the ken of civilized man.

We did not take the Philippines at will, and we cannot put them aside at will.

We have striven both for civil righteousness and for national greatness; and we have faith to believe that our hands will be upheld by all who feel love of country and trust in the uplifting of mankind.

We hold over before us as the all-important end of policy and administration the reign of peace at home and throughout the world; of peace which comes along by doing justice.

The constitution must be observed positively as well as negatively.

We do not have to guess at our own convictions and then correct the guess if it seems unpopular.

A party which, with facile ease, changes all its convictions before election cannot be trusted to adhere with tenacity to any principle after election.

As for the navy, it has been and is now the most potent guaranty of peace; and it is such chiefly because it is formidable and ready for use.

If on one great issue they (the Democrats) do not mean what they say, it is hardly safe to trust them on any other issue.

Free trade and reciprocity are not compatible.

They (the Democrats) have occupied three entirely different positions (on the Philippines) within fifty days. Which is the promise they really intend to keep?

Since the close of the war with Spain there has been no substantial change in the rate of annual expenditures.

Where there is no respect there can be no trust. A policy with so slender a basis of principle would not stand the strain of a single year of business adversity.

If a tariff law is passed aimed at preventing the prosperity of some of our people, it is as certain as anything can be that this aim will be achieved

JAPANESE IN THE FIELD

A Russian's Observations of the Little Brown Soldiers.

THEIR ENDURANCE REMARKABLE.

Some Infantry Regiments, He Says, Are Capable of Marching About Thirty-six Miles a Day, Going as Fast as Cavalry—The Soldiers Are Overloaded, as the Russians Are. Coats of Mail Also Worn.

Nikolayevitch Dantchenko, a Russian journalist, contributes to the Revue Russe some interesting observations of the Japanese soldiers.

"The particulars," he says, "furnished by the Chinese concerning the endurance of certain Japanese regiments are not imaginary. Some of the infantry regiments of Japan are capable of marching about thirty-six miles a day, going as fast as cavalry. These regiments are composed of men who, before being soldiers were rickshaw men—that is to say, drivers and horses at the same time, their trade being to carry people in small hand vehicles as rapidly as possible. If such men could run a whole day without stoppages, dragging a loaded vehicle, what cannot they do when they drag nothing and carry very little on their shoulders?"

"Japanese soldiers have, indeed, a superiority over our soldiers in that they are not overloaded. While one of our infantry soldiers is carrying an equipment weighing forty kilograms and seventy-three rounds of ammunition, to which must be added at least seven pounds of personal effects, which promptly tires him, the Japanese soldier has the larger part of his ammunition and effects placed on carts which follow the detachment. The Japanese, therefore, is cool and ready for the fight, even after a long march.

"I have had several opportunities of watching the Japanese descend the mountains. As soon as the heights are occupied by a line of tirailleurs, the main body of the troops runs down slope.

"How fortunate they are!" say our soldiers, with envy. "It is easy for them to perform those feats. They have no ammunition on their backs, and they have comfortable shoes. With our sacks weighing on our shoulders and our heavy boots on our feet, we could never run as they do. We would crush ourselves against the rocks or roll down the precipices."

"At the place where the descent would take several hours for our soldiers it takes only a few minutes for the Japanese. Moreover, it is impossible for our soldiers to take good aim because the Japanese come down the mountain like an avalanche and more quickly than a torrent.

"What astonishes me greatly is that all this should have escaped the attention of our military agents who lived in Japan before the war. Did they not say that the Japanese had insufficient cavalry, quite inferior to ours? That cavalry has been found very sufficient, and it is magnificent. Similar errors of judgment were made at the time of the Russo-Turkish war.

"According to our military agents the Russians merely needed an army corps to enter triumphantly into Constantinople. Before the present war I heard Colonel Vannosky, who lived for a long while in Japan as military agent, say:

"A war with Japan would be but child's play. Victory would not cost us much, and to win that victory we would not have to make great efforts. Japan is a weak and pitiful adversary."

"It is only recently that we have learned some very interesting details. We did not know one month ago that the Japanese officers and soldiers wore a kind of coat of mail. This explains why bayonets have little effect on the Japanese and why the sabers of our Cossacks are all notched after a fight, while their blows have done no harm to the enemy."

The Japanese have surprised the world as fighters; but, according to Harold Bole, they are also the most remarkable agricultural nation in the world, says the London Globe. They have only 10,000 square miles of arable land. An automobile going fifty miles an hour could skirt this area in eleven hours. Yet it supports an imperial nation—the rising power of the far east. Experts admit that the scientific skill of Japanese agriculturists is unapproached. "Patient diligence, with knowledge of the chemistry of the soil and the physiology of plants, have yielded results that have astounded the most advanced agriculturists in western nations."

Characteristic of Russia. Henry Roberts of Hartford, the Republican nominee for governor of Connecticut, evoked great interest in the disposition which the United States government would make of the Russian cruiser Lena, tied up in the harbor of San Francisco, says the New York Times.

"Experts have examined the vessel," said one of the nominee's lieutenants, "and report the hull in poor condition and entirely unseaworthy."

"Another Russian stronghold found weak," commented Roberts, with the terseness of a newspaper headline writer.

Senator Hoar's Favorite Dish. In his private life Senator Hoar was simple in the extreme. New England dishes, baked beans, fishballs and the like, were what he most liked. To each successive boarding place he went he carried a careful list of recipes for these dishes and insisted on their presence

NOVEL FOOTBALL CODE.

College Sport Put Within Sphere of Gentle Pastimes at Zion City.

Zion City boys will be able to play football this year, not the rough intercollegiate way which the average college boy now does on, but a simple, gentle, graceful and nondangerous game suitable to the quiet tastes of Zion City. Gladstone Dowle and Overseer Bracefield, former football players, have gone over the rules and changed them to conform with the principles inculcated to his flock by the general overseer.

Zion's football editors have blue penciled the rules so as to keep any possible injuries within the scope of mental healings in vogue at Zion City. The services of the "bone setter" will not be needed, as there will be no fractured ribs or other disfigurements if the rules be followed out.

The game will be open. On this point Editor Dowle has stolen a march on Walter Camp and other football sharks, who have worked for years to get daylight between the players. Mr. Dowle cut this Gordian knot in one grand sweep of his pen by abolishing tackles. Striking, holding, tripping and other ungentlemanly devices are also put among the discards. Iron and steel cleats follow in the wake of the tackles.

For fear that some other masculine feature may creep into the game the edict has gone forth that body must not touch body intentionally. If such a thing should happen a foul will be counted against the aggressor. If two men foul simultaneously the umpire shall award a double foul. If a foul is claimed and not awarded the captains and the man claiming the foul, together with the man against whom the foul is claimed, shall be the only persons to talk to the umpire.

ESCORT FOR COLLEGE GIRLS

Bryn Mawr Students Guarded, and Likewise Prevented from Flirting.

William Stauden, a tall, athletic young man of Haverford, Pa., has been appointed by the Bryn Mawr college faculty as official escort to the students, says a Philadelphia special dispatch to the New York World. It goes without saying that every young man in Bryn Mawr and the surrounding country is eaten up with envy.

It was not until last spring that the faculty decided an escort was necessary. An attack by a negro was given as the reason, but residents of Bryn Mawr whisper that this was not all. Haverford college is only a short distance from Bryn Mawr, and it is said that Haverford students developed a decided predilection for strolling in the neighboring borough about the time trains were due to arrive and that by some strange chance they frequently met students from the female institution of learning and of course gallantly escorted them to their destination. This was all contrary to the rule of the Bryn Mawr faculty.

Stauden will be on duty daily from 5 o'clock in the afternoon until midnight and will meet all incoming trains and escort students to outgoing trains whenever necessary. He will be duly armed "to keep the boys away," it is said.

Hobart Lewis has been appointed special watchman. Last year peepers were abundant at Bryn Mawr college, and the management is determined to put a stop to it. Lewis is an old man and was formerly watchman at the Summit Grove House when the girls were quartered there before Rockefeller hall was finished.

THE TRIO WALTZ.

Professor Duetsch's Substitute For the Two-step.

At the twenty-seventh annual convention of the American Society of Professors of Dancing, chartered in New York, two original dances were presented, says a St. Louis dispatch. The first creation was the trio waltz, arranged by Professor Oscar Duetsch of Terre Haute, Ind., the object of which is to avoid dancing the two-step to all kinds of time and to assist the learner in correct waltzing.

This dance is composed of a complete waltz turn, a chassé step and a glide which must also be danced in an opposite direction. The second creation is the gondolet two-step, invented by Professor Henry J. Kramer of Los Angeles, Cal. It is an arrangement of a glide, running step and two-step. Professor Kramer claims that this gives variation to the present two-step.

Trump's Great Strength. A tramp lawyer of giant strength, carrying cooking utensils, his provenance and a small arsenal and giving his name as William Covey of New York was recently arrested at Titonka, Ia., on the charge of assault, says a special dispatch from Eldora, Ia. When brought into court the man pleaded his own case, won out and now has his freedom. He had at one time evidently seen better days, but he would not talk much about himself. His pack contained bacon, potatoes, cabbage and onions, besides a camp stove, plate, knife, fork and cooking utensils. Other articles and keepsakes were in the man's pockets when searched.

Japanese War Offerings. The commandant of the navy yard in Cavite, in the Philippine Islands, employs about sixty Japanese in the repair shops, says the Chicago Tribune. Most of these Japanese are carpenters and receive wages averaging about $1.50 a day. Of this amount each man sends 50 cents each day as his offering to the Japanese government during the war. This is Patriotism with a large "P."

MISS CLAUSSEN SAVED FROM A SURGICAL OPERATION.

"DEAR MRS. PINKHAM:—Gradual loss of strength and nerve force told me something was radically wrong with me. I had severe shooting pains through the pelvic organs, cramps and extreme irritation compelled me to seek medical advice. The doctor said that I had ovarian trouble and ulceration, and advised an operation. I strongly objected to this and decided to try Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound. I soon found that my judgment was correct, and that all the good things said about this medicine were true, and day by day I felt less pain and increased appetite. The ulceration soon healed, and the other complications disappeared and in eleven weeks I was once more strong and vigorous and perfectly well.

"My heartiest thanks are sent to you for the great good you have done me."—Sincerely yours, Miss MARGARET MERKLEY, 275 Third St., Milwaukee, Wis.

Miss Clausen Saved from a Surgical Operation. "DEAR MRS. PINKHAM:—It seems to me that all the endorsements that I have read of the value of Lydia E. Pinkham's Compound do not express one-half of the virtue of the great medicine really possesses. I know that it saved my life and I want to give the credit where it belongs. I suffered with ovarian trouble for five years, had three operations and spent hundreds of dollars on doctors and medicines but this did not cure me after all.

"However, what doctors and medicines failed to do, Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound did. Twenty bottles restored me to perfect health and I feel sure that had I known of its value before, and let the doctors alone, I would have been spared all the pain and expense that fruitless operations cost me. If the women who are suffering, and the doctors do not help them, will try Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, they will not be disappointed with the results."—Miss CLARA M. ## Golf and Mushrooms.

A mushroom fiend bewails the popular denseness which permits the wholesale destruction of puffballs by golfers and other "ignoramuses." "Why on the golf course," he says, "that I have been in the habit of frequenting a bushel of delicious food is destroyed every day by wanton golfers, who make practice swipes at the round, white puffballs they encounter on their way."

Although the common meadow mushroom is gathered assiduously, other equally delicious species, among them the puffball, are ignored, all on account of the popular dread of the deadly amanita," says New York Tribune.

The letters of Miss Merkle, whose picture is printed above, and Miss Claussen, prove beyond question that thousands of cases of inflammation of the ovaries and womb are annually cured by the use of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound.

The Fatal Germ and Its Remedy Now Facts of Science.

It is the rarest thing in the world for a man to be bald. He is bald because his hair is not dead at the roots, need be bald if he will use Newbro's Herpicide, the new scalp antiseptic. Herpicide destroys the germ that cuts the hair off at the root, and cleans the scalp of dandruff and leaves it in a perfectly healthy condition. Mr. Maynard, in the Maryland Block, Butte, Mont., was entirely bald. In less than a month Herpicide had removed the enemies of hair growth, and nature did its work by covering his head with thick hair, an inch long, and in six weeks he had a normal suit of hair. ## BOILS AND ERUPTIONS

Have been suffering from Impure Blood for many years, having Boils and other Eruptions. Having heard of S. S. S. I decided to try it, and am glad to say that it has done me a great deal of good. I intend to continue to use it, as I believe it to be the best Blood Medicine on the market.

Cleveland, Tenn. W. K. DWYERS.

For over fifteen years I have suffered more or less from Impure Blood. About a year ago I had a boil appear on my leg and the knee, which was followed by three more on my neck. I saw S. S. S. advertised and decided to try it. After taking three bottles all Boils disappeared and I have not been troubled any since.

GEO. G. FERTIG, 114 W. Jefferson St., Louisville, Ky.

Newark, Ohio, May 23, 1903.

From childhood I had been bothered with bad blood, skin eruptions and boils. I had boils ranging from five to twenty in number each season. The burning accompanying the eruption was terrible. S. S. S. seemed to be just the medicine needed in my case. It drove out all impurities and bad blood, giving me permanent relief from the skin eruption and boils. This has been ten years ago, and I have never had a return of the disease.

DORA MEEK HAS PASSED AWAY

Centralia Girl Whose Sleep of Six Months Puzzled the Medical Profession.

Centralia, Oct. 17.—Dora Meek, the girl who gained almost national notoriety by sleeping nearly six months during the fall and winter of 1901 and 1902, died Sunday morning at her home in Centralia, four miles west of here. She was only 18 years old and her death was due to a general decline following an attack of measles last March.

During the period of her first great sleep, covering several months, she was visited by scores of physicians and hundreds of others, many coming long distances to see her. Her case puzzled the medical profession as well as the laity. When she was finally aroused she seemed to have suffered comparatively little from her protracted slumber, which resembled a trance more than natural sleep.

Last December, while employed as a domestic in Centralia, and without the slightest preliminary symptoms of a return of her trance-like condition, she fell asleep while caring for the children of the household, but this sleep lasted but a few weeks.

Many theories have been advanced to account for the prolonged periods of slumber to which she has been subject during the last three years, one of which is that she was disappointed in love, and many believe that this is the real cause.

ILLINOIS NEWS ITEMS

Veteran Weds—"Daredevil Tilden" Seriously Injured—Inter-urban Accident—Other Notes.

Galesburg.—A wedding of much interest to Illinois Grand Army and militia circles was that of Gen. William Clendenin, of Moline, and Mrs. Mary J. Bunker, of Galesburg, Rev. Joseph J. Bell officiating. General Clendenin is a veteran of the war and has served as colonel of the Sixth Illinois militia and as brigade inspector.

Quincy.—Henry Tilden Bagley, well known as "Daredevil Tilden," sustained serious injuries while making his leap on a bicycle on an incline plane, seventy feet high, to a tank of water, here late Saturday night. This act was the concluding feature of the Canton fall carnival, and an immense crowd had gathered to witness Tilden's perilous feat. Owing to lack of sufficient momentum, Tilden failed to alight properly in the tank, striking the edge in his fall and sustaining fractures of the right arm in two places, and of the left in one. He also received severe scalp wounds. Monday his condition was much improved. His home is in Chicago, where he has a wife and one child.

Quincy.—George Buckner, of Keokuk, colored, was drowned in the Mississippi river, near the foot of Vermont street, Monday afternoon, and up to 2 o'clock in the afternoon the body had not been recovered. Buckner was 16 years old, but was fully grown and looked nearer 21. He was employed as second cook on the United States quarter boat 184 that has been here with a fleet for four weeks—the crew working in the construction of dams. When the accident happened to him Buckner was engaged in scrubbing on a bench in the bow of the quarter boat.

Chattanooga.—John Becker, the son of Chris Becker, was accidentally shot Sunday afternoon by Willie Frabe, a lad about 6 years old. The boys were playing with rifles, when the one in the hands of the Frabe boy was discharged, the ball entering the right side of the Becker boy's face, at about the cheek bone. It then followed a downward course and lodged over the roof of the mouth. The firearm was of small calibre.

Springfield.—Since Saturday night there have been three fatal accidents in this vicinity. Two of them occurred on the Interurban road within twenty-four hours. The other was caused by the kick of a horse.

George Brown, an employee of the Green Ridge Coal company, near Girard, is said to have sat down on the Interurban track Saturday night while in an intoxicated condition and he was struck by a south bound electric car. All of the ribs on the left side were broken and he was badly injured that he died at Chatham while en route to this city to be placed in a hospital. Brown was 16 years old. The remains were taken to Kirlin's undertaking rooms.

The second accident on the Interurban occurred in this city at Twelfth and Monroe streets Sunday night at 8:50 o'clock. John Palmer, while going across the street car track at Twelfth and Monroe streets, was struck by an Interurban car and so badly injured that death occurred within a short time. Friends of the man stated that at the time of the accident the car was running at a rapid rate of speed and that it had no headlights. The missing headlight is accounted for by the fact that the company is required to run their cars through the city without headlights because the glare, it is claimed, confuses the firemen in case they are driving toward the car.

Zirkak Buerg, a well known German farmer, residing on the old Day farm, one mile east of the fair grounds, was kicked to death and a coal miner of this city, known only as "Bismarck," was badly injured by a horse belonging to Buerg yesterday morning. The two men went to the barn to feed the horses when one of them let fly with his iron-shod hoofs. Buerg's skull was fractured and his neck broken, causing death almost instantly. The miner was kicked on the head and a deep gash inflicted. He succeeded in dragging the farmer from under the horse's feet and then went to the house and told the family of the sad accident.

consumed at daybreak to day; that Russians still hold the right bank of the Shinko river; that pressure on the Russian left has been relieved and that the contest is continued on the right where the Japanese are still seeking to break through the Russian center, evidently in order to get possession of the railroad and cut off the Russian army from Mukden.

While admitting Russian losses are very heavy, the general staff declares the Japanese report of Russian losses are exaggerated, while their own are minimized.

Feeling at the war office to day was slightly brighter, as it becomes evident the Japanese have not cut off any Russian lines and that Kuropatkin is able to stand like a stone wall. The right wings of both sides are believed to be greatly exhausted by the long sustained efforts.

The main fear is the unexpected quiet on the Russian left may presage some strategic stroke of which Kuropatkin has not yet been apprised.

WAR REPORTS.

Mukden, Oct. 17.—Yesterday the Russians were not only successful on their right, but carried out some brilliant movements on the left, where they assumed an energetic offensive against the Japanese position at Soukhong, southeast of Hun pass. Three regiments stormed the Japanese trenches at Soukhong and carried them after desperate resistance.
